

Party Pieces

A NEW VENTURE WITH AN OLD FLAVOUR

In the past the “Players” have on occasions produced programmes of “Prose and Poetry” readings, most of them were presented to ‘Members and Friends’ and occasionally to captive audience gatherings. I would like to revive the idea with one or two changes and build up a repertoire of “Party Pieces” that members might already have, honed, tuned and polished and make them continuously available for presentations sponsored by Outside Associations, Clubs, Gatherings or Organisations.

The content of each show would be varied dependant on ‘Artistes’ availability to meet prospective engagement dates and would be made up of pieces read, memorised or even sung, dependant on the availability of musical accompaniment.

I would take the part of linking turns as a Master of Ceremonies and be actively involved in encouraging, directing and approving individual presentations via personally arranged preparation sessions.

Changes, and additions to the Repertoire of the Company would be mutually agreed and arranged and the availability of the venture would be circulated to prospective audiences in the Canterbury and East Kent area.

If you are interested in the idea and would like to be involved contact me
